Project Target Agreement – Amendment

between

Name and title of supervisor (first TAC member & first reviewer)

Name and title of second TAC member (second reviewer)

Name and title of third TAC member and

Ph.D. Student

The title of the candidate's Ph.D. project is:

The initial Target Agreement signed between the Ph.D. candidate and the three members of the TAC can be modified as necessary with the help of an amendment. The amendments can be made following the interim evaluations. The interim evaluations must take place during the third and fifth semester of participation in the Ph.D. program. Ideally, they take place once every semester.

If the TAC determines that the results agreed upon for the interim evaluation have not been achieved, it stipulates which results have to be achieved by repeating the module. This is recorded in the amendment. The Doctoral Committee is to be notified of the result of each interim evaluation.
